Railways Seek Probe of Basic Rate

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP)—The railways of Canada today called for a general investigation into the Dominion's basic rail rate structure, but not until the end of the current inquiry into their application for higher freight charges.

ISAAC PITBLADO of Winnipeg, chief railway counsel at the inquiry, told the Board of Transport Commissioners it should enter into a general investigation "as soon as possible" after this case. He was immediately supported by C. F. H. Carson, in charge of the Canadian Pacific Railway's case. Mr. Pitblado declared the carriers were not seeking "permanent" increases but were willing to have them revised periodically in accord with earnings and expenses. "We would be satisfied," he said, "to have the board look over our earnings month-by-month to see if the increases given were too large. We are not asking for a permanent increase."

Mr. Pitblado also urged on the board that increased railway operating costs are recognized as justifying higher rates.

He contended that the board in previous decisions had laid down the principle that when operating expenses were up, rate increases should be granted to the carriers. THE RAILWAYS' lawyer was arguing against the holding of regional hearings on their application for 30-per-cent general increases in freight rates. The regional hearings are sought by seven provinces. The Railway Association of Canada is opposing them on the grounds this is not a general investigation into the railway rate structure.

Today, the CPR joined with the Railway Association counsel in active opposition to regional hearings, but the Canadian National Railways, through Counsel A. K. Dysart, declared the National lines neither opposed nor supported the issue and would leave it up to the board.

To Take Jams Off Ration List

By DICK JACKSON

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, April 25—Plum and other less expensive lines of jam will be removed shortly from the ration board list, The Bulletin today was informed.

The ration will be dropped so merchants can move from their storage rooms and shelves a huge inventory, especially of plum jam, running into the hundreds of thousands of cases, and backed up from the retailer through the trade channels to the fruit packing plants.

PRICES BOARD officials today said complaints had been received from the trade that the tremendous inventory can only be moved by dropping the ration, since consumers had steadfastly refused to MOSCOW, April 25 (Reuters)—Foreign Secretary Bevin said on leaving Moscow today that he had a feeling that four-power unity was stronger than before because of the "very frankness exhibited by the ministers."

SUMMING UP the foreign ministers' conference at a press conference, Bevin said there had been more progress than he had hoped for so far as Germany was concerned.

"I would rather have taken a longer time to iron out our difficulties fully and produce a good overall peace, than hurry to create a false peace, slopping over with difficulties which would lead us back to turmoil," he said.

"We have now got before us the relative positions of the four governments," he added, pointing out that, in contrast with previous peace settlements, the defeated powers had been completely smashed with no government to deal with and no constitution in existence.

"WE HAVE really to build a new state."

On reparations, Bevin said there were "profound differences" (Continued on Page 2)

Seas Grow Calmer After 62 Perish

LONDON, April 25 (AP)—Salvage men waited for calmer seas today before boarding the veteran battleship Warspite, wrecked on a rock off the Cornish coast Wednesday during a storm.

THERE WAS SOME doubt whether the retired man o' war ever could be refloated or even completely salvaged while resting on the ledge. The 31,000-ton ship, survivor of two wars, ran aground while being towed to a salvage yard for wrecking.

The four-day storm subsided considerably during the night after killing at least 62 seamen in other shipwrecks. The Warspite's salvage crew of eight was saved.

Britain began raising a fund today for the families of lifeboat men who perished Wednesday

11 Men Remain Trapped in Mine

By GEOFFREY YATES

MALARTIC, Que., April 25 (CP)—Weary rescue teams who worked all night under lights pressed deeper into the East Malartic gold mine today in a bid to reach 11 miners trapped for nearly 36 hours more than 2,000 feet beneath the surface.

ASSISTANT MINE Manager W. Griffin said "there really is nothing new to report today." There still was hope the 11 trapped men would be reached, but Griffin said "it is difficult to tell" if they are still alive.

Griffin said rescue teams had reached the eighth level by this morning but he could not estimate how long it would take them to get to the 10th level where the men are. He described working conditions as "extremely difficult."

CAUGHT in the bowels of the East Malartic gold mine by a sudden fire early yesterday morning, the 11 men were felt to be still alive even though there had been no response to bell signals given by rescue workers. The fumes from the blaze caused the death of one man while four others managed to escape.

Specialists in rescue work were on hand from Timmins and Kirkland Lake in addition to men from the Malartic district. The Kirkland Lake men worked through much of yesterday while the Timmins rescue squad arrived at the scene late in the evening.

(At Montreal, a company spokesman said that efforts would be made to control ventilation by manipulation of ventilation doors on the second, fourth, sixth and eighth levels so that rescue workers could get down to the 10th level to fight the fire.

King's Birthday Set For June 9

The King's birthday will be celebrated this year on June 9, according to a dispatch received from the secretary of state, Ottawa, by provincial government officials.

His Majesty was born at York Cottage, Sandringham, Norfolk, Dec. 14, 1895, but the observance of his birthday by his subjects is a matter for annual proclamation, since his actual birth date is close to Christmas and is unseasonal for general observance in the Empire.

Buyers Strike Is Likely Here

A price boycott strike, involving a number of foods and other commodities, likely will be conducted in Edmonton, according to Mrs. B. R. Swankey, president of the Edmonton Housewives' League.

Mrs. Swankey said the executive of the league was in full agreement with the principle of the boycott, and that the subject would be placed before the public at a mass meeting to be called on the evening of May 2, in the Masonic Temple.

Object of the boycott is to fight price increases in foods and clothing. Calgary Housewives' League Thursday agreed to join a nationwide buyers' strike for one month commencing May 10.

Partial list of goods to come under the buying ban includes butter, lard, shortening, jams, chocolate bars, peanut butter, bacon, beef, pork, marmalades and clothing.

OTTAWA, April 25—(CP)—Postmaster General Bertrand announced today that five direct air mail flights daily in each direction, in place of the existing two, will start Sunday between Vancouver and Seattle, Wash.

Suggest Vessel Seized By Pirates

RANGOON, April 25—(AP)—RAF planes were dispatched today over the Penang area to investigate a theory that pirates might have seized the coastal steamer, Sir Harvey Adamson, missing for a week since advising that she was running into cyclonic winds.

Rescue ships, however, reported sighting wreckage off the South Burma coast, possibly of the Adamson.

A flag officer in Malaya relayed a message to the Burma Navy that the Adamson had been reported sighted in the Penang area. A Burmese Navy spokesman said he doubted the accuracy of the message but if it were true, the ship had fallen prey to pirates.

The spokesman said it was unlikely that the Adamson had reached the Penang area without signalling either Singapore or Penang. The 1,000-ton vessel's last message said it was unable to reach its destination, Tavoy.

At least five ships are searching for the Adamson.

Russians in Frantic Search for Uranium

MUNICH, April 25 (AP)—A German businessman who spent several weeks in the Russian zone asserted today that Soviet engineers were turning a mountainous area of Saxony into a great mining region in a "frantic" search for uranium—key to the atom bomb. (American experts, speaking unofficially in Frankfurt, said the German's statement was "possibly true," but warned that this story might be a "plant.")

Doctors to Strike

PARIS, April 25—(Reuters)—Some 30,000 French doctors will stage an administrative strike for 24 hours, May 2, the General Confederation of Medical Syndicates announced. The strike involving only refusal by doctors to sign any certificates, is being called in protest against what is considered an insufficient supply of automobiles.

To Avoid Risk of Warfare

Ask Generation Ban On Atomic Projects

CHICAGO, April 25—(AP)—Two engineers who helped construct the Oak Ridge atomic bomb plant today proposed a world-wide ban for an entire generation on the development of industrial atomic power to avoid the "risk" of atomic warfare.

THE BENEFITS of industrial atomic power are "not worth the risk," they contend.

The suggestion was advanced in the bulletin of the atomic scientists by Cuthbert Daniel, a chemical engineer, and Arthur M. Squires, a physical chemist.

They contend no pressing need existed for industrial atomic power and that the huge facilities required for producing such power

Marshall On Way Home To Report

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

MOSCOW, April 25—(AP)—State Secretary Marshall winged through European skies toward home today to report to the American people on the Big Four negotiations which broke up last night in almost complete disagreement on the major issues involved in concluding peace treaties for Austria and Germany.

"I am sorry that we did not make more progress," Marshall said just before boarding the plane scheduled to reach Washington tomorrow night, "but I imagine as we look back in the days ahead we will see that much more was done than we realized at the time."

Foreign Minister Bidault was slated to leave Moscow for Paris aboard a special train today and Foreign Secretary Bevin was set to go on a special train leaving at midnight.

Tourist Business Hit Peak in 1946

OTTAWA, April 25—(CP)—To the tune of $221,000,000 and 21,100,000 people, Canada last year smashed all previous tourist records, the bureau of statistics disclosed yesterday in releasing revised preliminary estimates of the Dominion's 1946 travel business. The unknown country won more friends and persuaded them to spend more money than in any other year in its history. Closest record was in the last year of the booming 1920s, when visitors brought $198,000,000.

Call for Pooling Of Canteen Funds

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP)—The Canadian Legion recommended today that canteen funds of all three services be brought together for disbursement under a single directive body and predicted, in effect, that moneys available to them would be considerably in excess of $100,000.

LT. GEN. E. W. Sansom of Fredericton, chairman of the Legion's national canteen funds committee, presented a seven-page brief to the Commons' committee studying disposal of at least $5,500,000 in army canteen funds. The navy and air force have already channelled their profits into separate benevolent funds.

Gen. Sansom said the Legion recommended that an army fund parallel to those of the other services be established and that all three should "follow the same guiding principles in respect to purpose and operation and be governed by a common directive or administrative setup." They would, however, not be pooled. Such action would "be economical and establish uniformity of treatment of all veterans."

British authorities said the explosives were planted in a mail truck driven by a man in a police uniform. The blast occurred about a minute and a half after the van was driven through the gate and parked next to the orderly room.

Officials reports said two bombs were used and that the orderly room and telephone exchange of the billet were destroyed.

The city of Tel Aviv was surprised.

Early Morning Fire Does $20,000 Damage

Fire at 2 a.m. Friday caused about $20,000 damage to the Prairie Cereals Limited, 10065 82 avenue, Fire Chief James Macgregor said he believed the blaze was started by spontaneous combustion of grain dust.

CONSIDERABLE damage was suffered by the two storey structure itself. The heaviest damage, however, occurred to stock such as grain, wrapping paper, bags and cartons.

The flames started in the rear of the building on the main floor and spread up through the second floor to the roof. The blaze was confined to the interior of the premises with the exception of a small portion of the roof.

Fire Chief Macgregor in charge of firemen from Halls No. 2 and 6 had the fire under control in about an hour and a half using five lines of hose.

The Prairie Cereals Limited suffered heavy loss, approximately $18,000, during the time when the south side was plagued with fires in 1945.

OTTAWA, April 25—(CP)—Health Minister Martin announced last night in the Commons the government will introduce the resolution to its old age pension legislation Monday and said the measure would be an attempt to deal with this problem "as practically as possible."

Five Die, Six Injured In Tel Aviv Bombing

By Edward Curtis

JERUSALEM, April 25—(AP)—Five persons were killed and six were injured when bombs wrecked a police billet in a suburb of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv today.

THREE PERSONS were missing. One was injured severely and five slightly in the blast, which wrecked the billet at Sarona.

The Stern Gang, smallest of the Jewish underground organizations, sent "communiques" to Hebrew newspapers claiming that the bombing was the work of its members.

Today's death toll raised to 33 the number killed by underground violence within three days. On Wednesday the Egypt Express, bringing British troops into Palestine, was dynamited, with a loss of eight lives, five of them British soldiers.

British authorities said the explosives were planted in a mail truck driven by a man in a police uniform. The blast occurred about a minute and a half after the van was driven through the gate and parked next to the orderly room.

Reported Missing On April 5 Flight

J. L. Blakesley, Bismark, N.D. businessman, and Spencer Addeman, plane pilot from Calgary, are both safe at separate trading posts some 400 miles north of Edmonton after their Associated Airways aircraft was reported missing on a flight from Edmonton to Embarras on April 5 last.

Given up for dead after an organized civilian-RCAF search of more than two weeks was abandoned a few days ago, word that the two men were alive came as an electrifying surprise here Thursday night and Friday morning.

Hope that had virtually died flared suddenly Thursday night when Tommy Fox, manager of Associated Airways in Edmonton, received the following message:

"AM AT LITTLE Red River to Fort Vermilion by a Hudson's Bay post employee amateur 'Ham' and relayed on to Edmonton over transmission facilities of C.P. Air Lines. This message had been radiobed

Get Second Message

Late Friday morning a second message came directly from Fort Vermilion, telling of the arrival there of Frank Addeman, pilot of the missing plane, with an Indian.

The two trading posts are about 45 miles apart and Inspector of Civil Aviation Kenneth Saunders is of the opinion that the pilot had remained with his grounded aircraft after the landing while Blakesley set out for Little Red River.

At press time Friday no further word had been received from the north concerning the physical condition of the two men.

It is thought that the two men will be flown to Edmonton Friday if their condition warrants further travel at this time.

President Fox of Associated Airways left Edmonton airport early Friday morning in an Anson plane for Fort McMurray, where he planned to change to a ski-equipped lighter plane for the remainder of the flight to Little Red River, a short distance to the north. He was forced to land at Peace River.

3 Planes Chartered

On Thursday evening, Frank Addeman, father of the missing pilot, had chartered three planes to aid in the search. These were reported to have left Edmonton early Friday for the north loaded with rescue equipment and medical supplies.

THE ELDER Addeman had never abandoned hope for the safety of his son and his passenger, even after the search had been officially abandoned.

The senior Mr. Addeman had

Alberta Indians Said Wealthiest

OTTAWA, April 25—(CP)—The prosperous condition of the Blackfoot Indians at Gleichen, Alta., wealthiest in the Dominion—came under further questioning today at a meeting of the joint parliamentary committee on Indian affairs.

George Gooderham, inspector of Alberta agencies, told the committee the Blackfoot owned 178,000 acres of land of which 12,160 was leased to "about a dozen" white farmers and between 30,000 and 40,000 toiled by the Indians themselves.

In 1907, they surrendered 150,000 acres to the Crown in return for a substantial payment. This payment has grown until today it amounts to $3,000,000 on which five per cent interest is paid by the Dominion government.

Out of its trust fund income and sale of product, the band annually spent $30,000 on administrative and medical staffs, $25,000 on road and irrigation developments. During the last 30 years it had completed a $500,000 housing project.

New Credit Union Acts for Co-ops

Establishment of an Alberta Central Co-operative Credit Union, which will replace the loan and deposit department of the Credit Union League was announced Friday by F. J. Fitzpatrick, provincial supervisor of co-operatives.

The new union will act as a credit union for smaller unions and co-operative enterprises. As these groups accumulate savings, they will be deposited in charge of the large body, which is empowered to make loans to them should any such enterprise need funds for expansion or other purposes.

MT. VERNON, Ind., April 25—(AP)—Prosecutor Jesse Wade said yesterday no charge would be placed against Eugene Nickell, 16, who Wade said admitted stabbing his father fatally last April 14 while the father was choking the boy's mother in their home near New Harmony. The prosecutor said the coroner's verdict indicated the father's death was due as much to chronic alcoholism as to the knife wounds.

Draws Three Years On Theft Charge

A three-year prison term at Prince Albert penitentiary brought to an end the robbery career of Mike Suchodolski, 12737 82 street.

Twenty-two-year-old, Suchodolski, pleaded guilty recently to a charge of holding up a city taxi driver, Alex Moskalyk, 12737 123 street, at the point of a revolver. The accused robbed the taxi driver of $12 and the cab.

Magistrate A. I. Miller, in sentencing Suchodolski Friday morning, said "armed robbery must always be dealt with as a most serious offence."

On the morning of April 16 the accused hired Moskalyk's cab for a lift to the Calgary trail. When part way out on the highway he pulled out a revolver, robbed the taxi driver and drove away in the auto.

Later in the morning, the accused was apprehended by Constable H. I. Moore, city police force.

hand in the United States to meet the world's scientific needs for years to come and proposed that this be distributed to research stations throughout the world.

They said that the United States and the Soviet Union were "poles apart" on the issue of international inspection of atomic energy plants and that there was "the deep conviction on each side that the other is trying to outmanoeuvre, surround and eventually overpower it." They added:

"Usually compromise is reached by each side's giving up part of its position. In this case we propose that both sides give up the same thing—whereby the principle tool of military power is removed from the hands of both sides, by agreement, without loss of the foreseeable benefits of nuclear science to either side."

THEIR PROPOSAL contemplated a world-wide agreement banning new atomic industrial plants and creation of an atomic development authority for world geological surveys, inspections and research.

"If our generation establishes peace, any future generation can establish nuclear power; if our generation fails to establish peace, no one for many generations can develop nuclear power or anything else," they said.

Pensions

month supplement was provided for by the orders-in-council. Some provinces also paid a $5 supplement. British Columbia recently increased this amount to $10, making the possible maximum pension there $35.

HOWARD GREEN (PC—Vancouver South) said there had been an utter failure on the part of the Dominion government to recognize the plight of old age pensioners and blind pensioners.

The Dominion had looked on such pensions as being primarily a provincial responsibility.

The government was "hiding behind the provinces" on the question. It had done nothing to increase the pensions for more than three years despite the constant rise in the cost-of-living.

He referred to the Dominion's offer to the provinces in 1945 to pay the full cost of a $30-a-month pension to all over 70 and half the cost of pensions to needy persons between 65 and 69.

THE DOMINION had used the aged as a "pawn" or a "club" to get the provinces to give up taxes and enter new taxation agreements.

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said the pension should be payable at 65 and should have attached to it a cost-of-living allowance and provision for hospitalization. The means test should be abolished.

John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) bespoke the Social Credit party's support for the legislation and said the pension should be boosted to $50 a month for persons of 65 and over and increased with the years.

Arthur Smith (PC—Calgary West) said there was no use of the House talking about pension rates until it knew how much money would be available from tax sources.

IT WAS CERTAINLY true that the old age pensioners were not getting enough now but it was a practical problem. It was time the members of the Commons stopped "bidding" for the votes of old age pensioners by offering $50, $60 or $70 a month.

He hoped the minister when he introduced the legislation would "make it generous."

from the only place we can get it? If he does, let him say so."

ATLEE, REPLYING to Churchill's criticism of the policies of the chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Dalton, charged that when Churchill himself was chancellor in the Stanley Baldwin cabinet of 1924 he "inflicted untold misery upon the people of this country" with a program which led to the "crisis in the coal industry from which we are suffering today."

Churchill, said Attlee, was "the most disastrous chancellor of the century... He sinned, no doubt in all innocence. But much of our troubles today can be traced back to that error of ignorance."

Of Churchill's complaints that the government was "scattering and squandering" the Empire, Attlee said he did not believe that in the United States "there is any support for the obsolete imperialism that Mr. Churchill seems to support."

"THE FACT IS that on this subject Mr. Churchill never thinks, he only gives way to his emotions," Attlee added. "But in doing so he does a bad service to this country."

Attlee said Churchill's denunciation of the Labor government's India policy was based on "obsolete imperialism." Ignoring the great movement for self-government spreading throughout Asia, Churchill had abandoned "the democratic principles for which we fought in the war."

"The opposition has no policy and no plan for the problems of the country," Attlee declared. "They take refuge in mere abuse and the attempt to place responsibility for the inevitable hardships of the present time at the door of the Labor government."

"I do not subscribe to the dreary jeremiads... which suggest that this country is down and out."

"We want to get economic unity. We want to get a political constitution, responsible and representative. We feel that we are entitled to get back the money we have poured into Germany in the economic field since the close of the war—money which had to be found by the British people."

"I CANNOT—nor can His Majesty's government—be a party to developing economic principles of a character which, coupled with reparations, will involve the British people, the United States and other countries in the necessity of making loans as we did at the end of World War I which resulted—and I want to emphasize this—in a condition, where, in order to obtain reparations at that time, so many loans were made that we created the potential for a Second World War."

VANCOUVER, April 25 (CP)—The extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to the Peace River area was advocated here last night by most wholesalers and retailers as a means of ending winter beef shortages in British Columbia.

"Not only would wheat shipped from the Peace River benefit those on the line but transportation charges would be considerably less for interior points such as Kamloops and Ashcroft," said K. R. Chown, manager of the B.C. Livestock Producers Co-operative. Butchers, faced with a growing shortage of the choicer types of beef aggravated by dwindling prairie shipments, said the P.G.E. was a potential link to a "horn of plenty."

PUSHER, ONLY! LYNESS, Orkney Islands (CP)—This naval base in future will have only admiralty and naval properties and personnel. An auction was held to dispose of property owned by the last civilian marine salvage firms on the Orkneys.

Druggist Gives Views on Life in U.K.

Bombs Not Dropping on England But "Everything Else Is Worse"

When the war ended the bombs stopped falling on England. But "everything else got worse," says a druggist questioned by the British United Press in an inquiry about how the courage man lives.—Editor.

By Earl Barber

British United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 25 (BUP)—William Lecky, 39, a druggist, said today he had not been to a movie in four years "because I just can't afford it."

LECKY HAS BEEN in the business for 21 years after a two-year course at a pharmaceutical college which cost him $2,000. Now he is a clerk making $32 a week. Of that, $2 a week goes to the government for income tax. It would be more if he did not have a wife and daughter.

"We are all becoming criminals," he said—"not because we want to, but because there are so many rules and regulations. You never know when you might be breaking one of them."

Lecky works 50 hours a week with a half day off on Saturday. He doesn't get overtime. He eats all his lunches out, and pays railway fare twice a day. That costs him almost $2 a day.

HE IS FAIRLY lucky in housing, for the moment. He has a five-room house with modern toilet facilities which costs him $6 a week rent. But the owner wants it back now, and Lecky must look for new quarters.

"The courts say it's a case of 'hardship,'" he said. "Sometimes I think I would just as soon have the war still on. When the war ended there were no more bombs, but everything else got worse."

"The rationing we get are almost a joke," Lecky said. "For my family I can buy 75 cents worth of meat a week, and a good share of that is corned beef. England is turning into a corned beef nation."

"IT'S IMPOSSIBLE to get along adequately on the ration, and I've been forced to go to the black market. My baby doesn't get the milk she should, and with the new cuts it will be even worse. Naturally, I would like to plan for the baby's future and education, but I can't save a penny. I can just about get by from day to day."

Lecky said newsboys on the street earn more than he does, and they don't pay tax on their earnings.

"At that I make more than the average man," he said. "He makes about $22 a week. When you think of the purchase tax, which practically doubles the price of everything you want to buy, you can understand what I mean about getting along."

HE DOUBTED that England would return to pre-war living standards in our time.

Although he is not a socialist, Lecky voted for the Labor government, not because of any particular views but just to give them a chance. They only made a worse mess. He would like to see Winston Churchill back in the saddle.

"The people are tired," he said. "All they want is food and a liveable house. As it is, the harder you work the more taxes you pay. Naturally, the conclusion is why work any harder?"

Manning Presents Life Memberships

Life memberships were conferred upon W. T. Aiken and Carl Gunderson, past executive members of the Civil Service Association, at a complimentary banquet at the Government Cafe on Wednesday.

Premier Ernest Manning presented the memberships to Mr. Aiken, past president, 1920-21, and 1937-40, and to Carl Gunderson, executive member for the last nine years. A mantle clock was presented to William McGruther, past president, 1941-46.

The premier, in his remarks, stressed the value of the services rendered by the officials to the association, the government, and to the general public.

Seated at the head table were: Mr. Aiken; Mr. Gunderson; Mr. McGruther; Mr. Manning; the Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary, and Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of trade and industry, and A. Pearl, president of the association.

Others present included: Mrs. N. Myers; Miss W. Meakin; Miss Kay Miles; Miss E. Gorman; and R. A. Anderson; J. F. Percival; Mark W. Robertson; J. H. Holloway; A. Farnilo; A. Earnshaw; E. A. Duke; R. UPWA Likely Ask Wage Boost in Fall

A boost in wage rates will likely be requested this fall by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (U.P.W.A.), according to a statement Friday by Jack Hampson, union representative for Alberta.

He gave as reasons for the probable request the progressively increasing cost of living and the substantial increases noted in profits made by the packers.

Mr. Hampson will leave April 30 to attend the three-day Canadian national convention of the union which follows the international convention commencing May 4 in Cleveland.

Policy for the coming year affecting Canada's 15,000 U.P.W.A. members will be determined at the convention, he said.

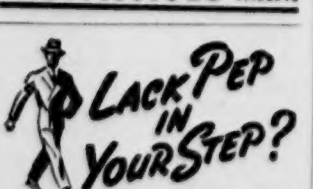

About 50 representatives from Canada will be in attendance, he estimated. Others whom he said would be attending the meet from Edmonton were James Cessford, James Henderson, Mrs. E. Wilson, Don Butler and Alex Goruk.

Shifting Farm Labor

Last year more than 20,000 farm workers were shifted to points in the Dominion where their services were particularly needed. Some were moved from place to place within a province, many from one province to another.

Federal and provincial departments joined forces to carry on this service during the war years. It has worked well. A good deal of credit for the remarkable farm-production records made in wartime can be given to this policy of transferring the labor supply to areas where there was a shortage.

Spring seems to be coming rather late in most provinces this year. A good distribution of the available labor supply is more than usually important on that account. It is to be hoped the plans to continue this year the transfer of workers to strategic points will be completed without delay.

The news from Ottawa is that all the provinces are likely to co-operate. Prompt action will be needed to make the plan as effective as possible, for there are said to be shortages in a good many localities in this and the other western provinces.

Criminal Code Changes

The minister of justice has informed the Canadian House of Commons that a bill providing for important changes in the criminal code is being drafted and will probably be introduced later in the session.

This is encouraging news. The criminal code, in many respects, is one of the most outmoded judicial documents in use in this country. Crime tendencies are subject to processes of change and the need for checking certain of these tendencies varies from time to time. That is why the criminal code should be subjected to constant study and frequent revision.

It is to be hoped that the department of justice is not drafting these amendments solely according to its own knowledge and experience. Doubtless the legal knowledge of the department is wide and deep—in an academic way. But what needs to be accomplished is to adapt the provisions of the code to practical experience.

To this end Ottawa should call in consultation the trial and appeal judges of Canada. These are the men who know how the criminal code works, its weaknesses and its deficiencies.

If it is impossible to arrange a meeting of all the trial and appeal judges in Canada to consider the changes in the criminal code, these judges should at least be consulted by correspondence and invited to make definite and concrete suggestions.

Judges regularly make common law by their decisions. Their contributions to codified law would be equally valuable.

Certainly many of the planned amendments are likely to fall wide of the mark unless the Canadian bench is invited to participate in framing them.

Better Wait a While

The House of Commons spent some time this week debating whether the Japanese residents of Canada should or should not be allowed to move back to British Columbia.

CCF members took the ground that to prevent their going back is an instance of racial discrimination, intolerance, and comparable to Hitler's methods of dealing with minority groups. Hon. Humphrey Mitchell replied that the Japs are doing very well where they are, and he doubted that many of them would go back if they were permitted to do so.

That is not a very realistic way of dealing with the subject. Rectifying theories and making guesses does not supply a basis on which the question can be settled. Still less helpful is the absurd comparison of the treatment of the Japanese in Canada and the Jews in Nazi Germany.

What is obvious is that British Columbia will not agree to the return of the Japs. Not only because of their race, but because of their habits; rather more because of their habits than their race. In British Columbia the Japs lived together in colonies. They crowded into the fishing industry and some other industries, crowded others out, and established virtual monopolies of these occupations. They would do exactly the same thing if they went back.

Mr. Mitchell's suggestion that they could not go back if they could is contrary to historic facts. Until they were ejected there was hardly a Jap in any other part of Canada, and the mass of those in British Columbia were concentrated in the coastal area. This situation would almost certainly repeat if the ban were lifted.

The practical view of the matter is that it is too early yet to remove the restriction. When the migrants have become well established in other provinces, and thus anchored in the communities in which they now live, will be time enough to consider lifting the barrier. By that time we will know whether Japan's conversion to democratic ways and peaceful purposes is genuine or only trickery; therefore whether Japanese colonies on the British Columbia coast would be industrial communities only or spy centres as they formerly were.

An Unnecessary Risk

As the situation cleared it has been found that the casualties at Texas City were fewer than had been feared. The probability seems to be that total figures will show something less than 1,000 dead, perhaps 3,000 injured, and around 12,000 left homeless. This is a terrible inventory.

But it does not constitute a record. In the very similar occurrence at Halifax thirty years ago, 1,600 persons were killed, 4,000 were injured, and 20,000 made homeless. It is a melancholy and profitless reflection that the Texas City disaster was somewhat less costly in these items; but serves to set the two in perspective.

Both these calamities occurred because a ship freighted with an explosive cargo sailed into a large and busy port. The moral seems obvious that vessels so laden should be forbidden to enter ports of this class. They could as well load, unload, and take on supplies in small and little used harbors, with shore facilities specially designed to minimize fatalities and injuries in case of a mishap.

Any person caught trundling a wagon load of powder through the streets of a city would be rounded up by the police. Why not equal care to prevent a ship crammed with explosive materials sailing into a port where an accident must mean death to hundreds, injuries to thousands, and property damage running into millions?

Men lose an average of 10 pounds and women three on a flight to Europe, according to Pan American Airways. Chemical action or anticipation of "austerity?"

"Once Britons," says The Calgary Herald, "have become accustomed to paying 68 cents for a package of 20 cigarettes—and the people do get accustomed to this kind of thing..." But closer to home people show a marked disinclination to get used to the eight cent chocolate bar.

For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease.—Job 14:7.

BRIDGE

THE MODERN OCULIST

Wallace and Churchill

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

There is historic significance in the controversy between Henry Wallace and Winston Churchill. These men represent opposite poles in political thinking in the western world. Hence the fact that both Wallace and Churchill are out of power—both are in opposition to the governments of their own countries—is less important than the fact they do represent mighty political forces.

A member of parliament writes me about Wallace's tour in Europe that there has been "nothing like it since Woodrow Wilson went to Europe at the end of World War One." The common people turned out to hear Wallace in an atmosphere charged with emotion. The size of the crowds and the hope in the air had nothing to do with the arguments over the Truman doctrine. The seats for Wallace's meetings were all sold out weeks before the Truman doctrine was announced.

The key to Wallace's hold on the common people of Britain is that he stands for a big idea—his "century of the common man."

The very sneer which his critics use against him in the United States is his strongest asset abroad. For "a pint of milk a day for every human being on earth" is an idea clear enough to be understood by every family on all the earth."

IF I WERE ASKED to name the two world figures who would draw the largest audiences in Canada today I would say Winston Churchill and Henry Wallace.

The people of Canada admire Churchill, not only for his titanic contribution to victory, but for his unequalled craftsmanship—showmanship—as a public debater. But Canadians long since learned not to take at face value some of Churchill's most sonorous phrases.

Some of these, like the one about "blood and toil and sweat and tears," will live as long as language. But some others, which seemed magnificent at the time, will get a laugh from future readers. For instance this, to the United States Congress: "Give us the tools and we'll finish the job."

Wallace for opposing the Truman doctrine in England is really funny. If ever there was a case of the peevish old man, this was it. Mr. Churchill's famous speech at Fulton, Missouri, which was directly contrary to the avowed foreign policy of his own country, he himself had not hesitated a few days before to intervene personally in the argument in the United States Congress.

Churchill has a great sense of humor. He must have got a laugh, in private, at his blast at Wallace. For what he was saying, in fact, was that it was okay for him, Winston Churchill, to say that Truman's policy was all right, but that it was all wrong for Wallace, the American, to say that it was wrong.

The Truman doctrine is international in effect. It is ridiculous to think that it will be discussed in only one country, or by only one people.

THE BRITISH can admire a public man like Churchill, while rejecting his wrong advice.

We Canadians did that, in 1920, when Churchill tried to get us to fight Turkey. The British did it when they refused to follow his angry growl, "I did not become His Majesty's First Minister to preside at the liquidation of the British Empire."

The British think Churchill is looking at the picture upside down. They are not "liquidating an Empire" except to build a free world commonwealth.

To tens of millions of people throughout the world Wallace stands for the future—Churchill stands for the past.

U.S. Policy in Greece

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

ernments which fall so far below their own concept of democracy.

THE UNITED STATES government is now in a position to make sure that conditions do change. It can insist that money loaned to Greece and Turkey for non-military purposes shall be spent providently and honestly to rebuild the economic structure of these nations. It can prevent the waste or corrupt use of this money. It must do so, indeed, in its own interests, for unless these nations are made able to support themselves the United States taxpayers may be compelled to maintain them, on a kind of a dole, indefinitely.

Above all, having virtually guaranteed their existence, the United States can insist that the governments of these nations shall not persecute innocent minorities.

SECOND, the true purpose of this military deployment is not to menace Russia but to create a balance of power in the Middle East on which a firm and general settlement may be built between Russia and the western world, and without which no settlement is likely to be built at all.

Third, this whole program is being placed under the ultimate control of the United Nations. The original unilateral intervention proposed by Mr. Truman is being amended by the Congress so that the United Nations, by a majority vote, may order the United States out of Greece and Turkey at any time. The United States will have no right to veto such a decision.

Fourth, the United States, by accepting its authority, has greatly strengthened the moral power of the United Nations.

THE POLICY of intervention, thus clarified, is justified by the emergency which it is designed to cure and by the willingness of the United States to abide by the overriding decisions of an international authority. But certain other aspects of the policy remain to trouble the conscience of the American people.

In establishing its power in the Middle East, the United States has been compelled to work through the only available avenues, the governments of Turkey and Greece. The Turkish government was neutral during most of the war and it cannot be described today as a democratic country in our terms, though it is moving slowly in a democratic direction. The government of Greece was elected by the Greek people but it is not the kind of government which the United States or any free nation would willingly choose to support. It represents the rightist and reactionary forces of Greece.

It is natural that the Congress and people of the United States should be disturbed when they find themselves supporting governments which fall so far below their own concept of democracy.

Education v Schooling

BY HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

Although formal education and training are undoubtedly a great advantage to any young man or woman venturing out into the world to make a living, they are not everything. And I believe that throughout the length and breadth of this land today we are making a grave mistake in placing the emphasis that we do on formal education. It is with a great deal of misgiving that I find that employers generally are insisting that applicants for positions must have certain minimum educational qualifications before their applications will even be considered.

In writing this I am not attempting to detract from the importance and necessity of education. But I am trying to make the point that there are a large number of people who by circumstances have been denied the opportunity of obtaining a "higher" education, whose native ability, ambition, and initiative entitles them to a better chance than they receive today.

I HAVE BEEN impressed, and deeply impressed, by the number of men I have met, in this western country particularly, who actually received very little formal schooling. They learned to read and write and that was about all. Yet today their grammar gives no clue to the limited formal education they received, their logic is beyond reproach, and their business success and acumen is the envy of university professors as well as others.

The answer to this, of course, is that these men possessed a large amount of good, ordinary commonsense—which no amount of education can pound into the man who wasn't born with it. And they learned in the hard school of experience the practical truths which are often far more useful and important than the theoretical truths. And once having been taught to read, they have kept right on reading everything they could lay their hands on so that their total sum of human knowledge is often wider and deeper than that possessed by others who were contented merely with what they were taught by teachers and professors.

I believe there is perhaps too great a tendency today to consider the task of educational institutions to be to give our young people knowledge. Actually it should be to give them a thirst for knowledge and to assist them to find ways and means of satisfying that thirst.

I BELIEVE, too, that we need a revival of the stories of accomplishment. We should impress upon our young people that most of the things we enjoy today, most of the progress on this continent, was brought about by men of driving ambition who had common-sense enough to make the most of the native intelligence and ability which God gave them. We should teach people that formal education is merely a short-cut to a goal, not the goal in itself.

I am afraid we are tending today to deny ourselves the contribution which many men of limited education, but not-so-limited ability, could make to our society if we would only give them a chance.

U.S. MAGAZINES

Editor, Bulletin.—Our "young Canadians" are being Americanized hourly and daily through an over-whelming deluge of American reading matter, American movies, American "funnies" and American sport. According to an article in the current British Columbia Digest, headed "Americanizing Canadians," Canadians purchase 528,000 copies per month of three leading American magazines, 1,982,000 copies per month of the three comparative Canadian magazines. Canadians also purchase 500,000 copies per month of just one digest magazine per month of American origin—and contents.

This great deluge of Americanized reading matter, alone, is largely responsible for such a terrific "build-up" for the United States that young people reading so little about their own magnificent country, look south of the line for opportunities that should be theirs in their own country.

ORGAN MUSIC

Editor, Bulletin.—There is a public today in some evangelistic circles, especially in studies where religious services are broadcast, which I find most difficult to understand that of someone softly playing the organ or piano while a speaker is reading or engaging audibly in prayer.

If there ever was a time for quietness or silence it is at such a time as we are expecting when one is praying. Those who unconsciously allow this practice would be the last to be accused of irreverence.

Supposing I were having an audience with the King, could one conceive of someone playing an instrument while I was addressing His Majesty? Why then this distracting innovation while men are speaking to a Holy God?

Unfortunately, the practice has come from the movie world, but to say the least it is irreverent and should not be countenanced in Christian circles.

FAIR PLAY

"PLENTY" DISSATISFIED

Editor, Bulletin.—Regarding daylight saving time, did anyone give any consideration to railroad men and any others who may work night shifts and whose employers find it impossible to operate on daylight saving time? Are we to put up with the poor service of owl cars for the summer and pay three tickets for the doubtful privilege?

There may not be as many unfortunate as there are sports minded or those that will get balled up on radio programs but the few will be plenty dissatisfied.

Might I point out that there are 5.30 Golf could be as enjoyable then as in the evening and the rest of us could get to work on time and at a reasonable rate.

APPEAL WAS ANSWERED

Editor, Bulletin.—I have been requested by our executive officers in Great Britain, to convey their gratitude for your aid in our effort to lighten the burden of our chums in the Old Land, who, through advancing age and illness, have had rather a tough time during the past few years.

The publicity given by you to our appeal, enabled me to contact many friends. To those good people who during the past few months have sent such splendid food and clothing parcels, I wish to say thank you in the name of our officers.

War Department Anxious

U.S. Seeking Action Hemisphere Defence

By Clyde Blackburn

WASHINGTON, April 25—(CP)—Immediate passage of the "Inter-American Military Co-operation Act" with the goal of unifying Western Hemisphere defence is the urgent wish of the United States war department, it was learned yesterday.

THE BILL, requested a year ago by President Truman, was introduced in the last Congress and received state department support in committee, but was left in the air when Congress ended.

Now it must receive the approval of the new secretary of state, George Marshall, before administration pressure is brought to bear on Congress for its re-introduction.

The presidential recommendation was for a measure that would authorize the government to provide arms and equipment to other Western Hemisphere countries under agreements and to arrange for standardization and co-ordination of training and organization methods.

THE FORMER secretary of state, James F. Byrnes, gave it his support, but he has since resigned and it is understood there now is a different attitude in state department advisory circles.

The bill would apply to Canada as well as the republics and the war department takes the stand that such co-operation is vital to the security of the United States.

High army officials are said to be firmly behind disarmament proposals but feel that it will be a long time before disarmament reaches a scale which would restrict such defence planning as that envisaged in the proposed measure.

Agree To Tolls On East Seaway

OTTAWA, April 25—(CP)—A United States proposal that construction of deep seaway projects on the St. Lawrence River be made self-liquidating through imposition of tolls on shipping using the route has been agreed to in principle by the Canadian government, External Affairs Minister St. Laurent told the Commons yesterday.

CONSTRUCTION of the projects, that would provide a 2,000-mile channel through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence to the sea, was first agreed to by the United States and Canada in 1941, but so far neither country has obtained ratification of the agreement.

Mr. St. Laurent said the agreement, placed before the American Congress every year since 1941 for approval, had been re-submitted recently.

When the two countries agreed to carry out the deep seaway and power projects, it was estimated that the total cost would amount to approximately $500,000,000. Labor and material costs have risen since then.

Fear Shortage Quality Beef

WINNIPEG, April 25—(CP)—Canadian housewives will have to reconcile themselves to sub-standard roasts for the Sunday dinner table between now and next August, local cattle dealers warned yesterday.

The reason, they said, was a lack of grain-fed cattle which has resulted in marketings across the Dominion dropping sharply this year.

Last winter, they explained, farmers found it unprofitable to feed high price grain to cattle to provide ceiling-controlled meat. The farmers' attitude was that it would be cheaper to let the cattle rustle for themselves during the winter and sell them grass-finished in late July or August.

This policy, dealers said, was reflected in the drop in marketings this year. During the first 15 weeks of 1947 Canadian farmers marketed 348,748 head of cattle against 459,553 during the comparable period a year ago. On a weekly basis the deficit averaged 7,185.

Sealers Due

HALIFAX, April 25—(CP)—Two Halifax sealers, the Fordham and the Notre Dame, will arrive here Sunday with 13,000 pelts on board. Karl Karlsen, Norwegian-born owner of the Karlsen Sealing Company, said today. He added the pelts would be sold in Canada at the ceiling price of 14½ cents a pound.

Publishers in U.S. Elect President

NEW YORK, April 25—(AP)—David W. Howe, business manager of the Burlington (Vt.) Free Press, today was elected president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association to succeed W. G. Chandler, a member of the Scripps-Howard advisory board, F. I. Ker, publisher of the Hamilton, Ont., Spectator and president of the Canadian Press, was among the directors re-elected for two-year terms.

Take Sinatra's Gun

HOLLYWOOD, April 25—(AP)—Actor Frank Sinatra has surrendered his gun-carrying permit, the sheriff's office disclosed last night. Revocation of the permit came after Sinatra's recent fistcuffs in a Hollywood night club with Lee Mortimer, New York columnist. The crooner is awaiting trial May 28 on a battery charge brought by Mortimer.

Bridgetown, Barbados (CP)—A social and probation conference attended by officers from all British Caribbean territories was held here recently. The place of social welfare in the machinery of government, rural welfare work and training for social work were discussed.

TRANSFORMATION—A LA HOLLYWOOD: Martha Vickers, newly-created star who appears in Warner Bros. "The Man I Love" and "The Time, The Place and The Girl," illustrates here how easily a girl can "transform" her personality. Using three wigs of different types, Miss Vickers is at left the sophisticated young career woman; in the centre an ingenue, and at right she's strictly the glamor girl. Although use of such transformations would be impractical in most cases anywhere off the stage or screen, Martha proves that to change your personality, you need only to change your hair—either in color or in styling.

Automobile Factory In Soviet Strikeless

MOSCOW, April 25—(AP)—Ivan Likhachev, 51-year-old boss of Russia's biggest automobile plant, told foreign reporters yesterday that in his 21 years as director of the Stalin Automobile Works there never has been a strike. Likhachev, amiable and sharp-eyed, said the trade union at his plant never had made a complaint about wages. Correspondents found him to have a vigorous approach to his job and they also found he learned his trade in Detroit.

FRANKFURT, April 25—(AP)—Several hundred Jewish displaced persons marched in a demonstration before the British consulate here yesterday protesting the hanging of Dov Bela Gruener and three comrades in Palestine. Similar demonstrations have taken place in Berlin, Munich and Regensburg.

Prices in States Still Unbalanced

NEW YORK, April 25—(AP)—The price structure of the United States remained out of balance today after a month of wide discussion sparked by President Truman. Although reductions were spotted here and there, the American consumer found many prices unchanged and some increased.

Some analysts said the prices of too many "key commodities" were as yet untouched for recent spectacular reductions to be followed by a general retail decline soon.

Many retailers, in spite of post-war sales, slashes in hard-to-move goods, and publicized across-the-board cuts by communities, said they could do little about general price reductions until manufacturers did.

Food for Britain

SYDNEY, Australia, April 25—(Reuters)—Australians are rallying to help ration-weary British housewives. More than 10,000 meat coupons—equivalent to four tons of meat—have been sent to the food for Britain fund to augment exports since the public appeal on April 17, in addition to thousands of tea, sugar and butter coupons.

Had to Rustle Food Bush-Bound Trapper Sets Own Fracture

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 25 —(CP)—Algoma residents who like to talk about the durability of district trappers and woodsmen will be telling their grandchildren about Alex Krezek and his broken leg.

THE STORY came out yesterday as the 50-year-old trapper returned to his home here after five months in the rugged Gargantua bushland 125 miles northwest of here, the break in his leg successfully mended under his own treatment. In spite of the leg, he managed to replenish diminishing supplies of fuel and provisions, even to killing a moose.

It was on Dec. 19 that a boat motor fell on his left leg, breaking it above the ankle. Somehow he managed to crawl to his isolated cabin, set the bone himself and bind it in splints.

He had some morphine tablets which eased the pain but there followed many days—he doesn't remember how many—during which he moved only to "rustle up" enough food to keep alive.

"I HAD TWO WEEKS' supply of wood, plenty of potatoes and vegetables, but only enough meat for two weeks," said Krezek, who despite his grey hair looks much younger than his years. "When the wood was used up I had to get out and cut more."

He made himself a pair of crutches but his worry was to get about on them in deep snow where he knew they'd sink. So he rigged two five-gallon cans to the ends of his crutches to be used as snowshoes.

The meat shortage vanished when a moose hove into view before the cabin. Krezek fired out the window and brought it down.

The leg healed well, said the sturdy, healthy-looking trapper as he bared his ankle where only a slight swelling remains as evidence of the break.

Top-Flight Talent In New Ice Show

RCMP Recruiting To Be Cut Down

OTTAWA, April 25—(CP)—Mounted training for Royal Canadian Mounted Police rookies has been recommenced for the first time since the war, signalling a return soon of the famed military ride of the "Mounties," discontinued in 1939.

This was disclosed last night in conjunction with an announcement by Commissioner S. T. Wood that effective May 1 that recruiting for the red-coated force will be curtailed from the campaign begun two years ago to replace wartime depletion of manpower.

Approximately 600 men, chosen from some 7,000 applicants in the last two years, have been taken into the force which now has a total strength of approximately 2,500. Commissioner Wood said recruits already on hand were sufficient to meet immediate requirements and from May 1 the force would discontinue engaging any young men under 21.

Recruiting will be continued on a more modified scale, he said. In future those wishing consideration must have completed grade 10 education in addition to meeting the usual RCMP standards.

Bombing

rounded by troops within minutes after the blast.

Almost simultaneously an alarm was sounded in the vicinity of Jaffa and all road traffic between Jaffa and nearby Tel Aviv was halted.

SARONA, WHERE the bombing occurred, is the home of many British officials and the headquarters of the Palestine mobile forces.

Meanwhile British authorities attempted to run down a report—which they believed a hoax—that three British soldiers had been kidnapped in the heart of Jerusalem by members of the Jewish underground.

This report followed the announcement that a British businessman had been kidnapped during the night from a fashionable Tel Aviv beach hotel but had been released unharmed when his abductors discovered he was a Jew. The entire centre of Jerusalem around Zion Square was cordoned off as British troops checked the reported soldier kidnapping.

Jailed Unjustly, Man Given $10,000

CANON CITY Colo., April 25 (AP)—Loren Hamby was given $10,000 by the state for six years spent unjustly in penitentiary, but he won't get any of it personally. He's turning it over to his mother who considered no sacrifice too great to clear her son of a murder charge. For his mother, Mrs. Ruth Hamby, the money will be the means of settling debts incurred in the long fight. George T. Cairns was killed at his Walsenburg, Colo., filling station June 22, 1937, and Hamby was charged with the slaying. Hamby claimed he was listening to a radio at the time.

Bill Would Give Powers of Search

LONDON, April 25—(Reuters)—Power to search buildings, vehicles and ships for radioactive substances—by force if necessary—will be given to the government if a bill published today is approved by parliament. The measure, formally introduced in the House of Lords yesterday by Lord Inman, lord privy seal, provides for a ban on the manufacture, treatment, possession, use or import of any radioactive substances without a permit from the ministry of supply. Maximum penalty would be an $800 fine and three months' imprisonment.

Fire Loss $100,000

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., April 25—(CP)—The Clapp Block, pioneer business and apartment building, and the adjoining Shortridge Apartments and an army garage were destroyed by fire early today with loss estimated at $100,000.

Liner Carries Seed

NEW YORK, April 25—(AP)—Longshoremen hustled 250 tons of flax seed into the liner Queen Elizabeth today instead of a higher revenue cargo of jewelry and furs as the ship prepared to race spring planting time to England and thus aid in rehabilitating the flood-devastated British Fens.

Thousands of years ago the Egyptians knew the art of manipulating yarn with needles.

Lowe Brothers Open New City Paint Store Company Operates Stores In 6 Other Canadian Cities

Edmonton's newest and most modern paint store—operated by The Lowe Brothers Company Ltd.—will be opened officially on Saturday. The company already has stores in Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Windsor, Moose Jaw and Calgary.

Located at 10424 Jasper ave., the store will be managed by Richard Tougas, well-known hockey player with the Edmonton Athletic Club Juniors several years ago. Mr. Tougas served with the United States Airforce during the war and is a graduate of the University of Southern California. He took business administration. He will be assisted in the store by Bud Shoff, of Toronto, who is an expert on interior decorating, having spent three years at a New York school for interior decorators; and Frank Jones, former assistant manager of a paint department of an Edmonton store.

An outstanding feature of the new store is the modern front with a large plate glass window and door. The front of the premises is completed in black and gray Vitrolite. The store is 25 feet by 80 and is Richard Tougas, well-known hockey player here before the war, a veteran of the U.S. Army Air Force and a graduate in business administration from the University of Southern California, who has been named manager of the new Lowe Brothers branch, 10424 Jasper ave. Mr. Tougas' home is in Edmonton and before going to the U.S. played hockey for the E.A.C. Juniors in 1937-38.

decorated in pastel shades. It is well lighted and has ample shelves on which the paints, enamels, brushes and other equipment can be seen by the public. The company's trade name for its paints is High Standard. The enamels sold in the store are Nepto-Lac, considered as one of the leading enamels in Canada.

An added feature in the store is the line of paintings and pictures which will be handled. These are located against the west wall and add considerable color to the surroundings. On the opening day, Mr. Tougas plans to give away about 100 pictures to customers making a purchase of $1 or more.

The company's wallpaper is located at the rear of the premises in large racks. Included in this stock is the very latest in washable wallpaper. The samples are on racks near the front of the main premises. Another outstanding feature of the store is the large basement in which paints, oils and other essentials are stored. Entrance to the basement is through the rear of the store. All inflammable liquids in the basement, such as oils, are stored in a fire-proof room. The basement storage space is 20 by 85 feet.

At the rear of the store is a large parking lot which will be suitable for accommodating trucks of decorators dealing with the company.

Mr. Tougas has a special department in the store. It is called the "home brightening" department. In this department he has floor polishes, cleaners and other materials which add color to all homes. Such a department is considered most essential as customers are able to take a quick glance through the shelves in order to decide their needs. All goods are on special shelves on the east wall of the premises.

The store is well lighted with 12 large fixtures which give the paints their natural color. Mr. Tougas on Friday said he considered the lighting for a paint store was most important. In some cases, paints and enamels take on different shades in different lights.

The phone number of the new store is 21585.

Jewish Resistance Said Necessary
PARIS, April 25.—(BUP)—Henry A. Wallace said today at the last press conference of his European tour that "while I deplore terrorism, Jewish resistance in Palestine was necessary to arouse the conscience of the world." Wallace said that if the international bank for reconstruction would provide funds for "Jordan and Euphrates river authorities," the Near East would become a prosperous area capable of supporting both Jews and Arabs.

Joseph McKone

Recalls Early Days

Old-Timer Saw Town Grow Like Mushroom

"Everything was just beginning to grow like mushrooms, when I first arrived in Vermilion in 1905," Joseph McKone 11513 87 street, old-time resident of Alberta, recalled today.

MR. McKONE is 75-years-old, and was born at Kelly's Crossing, Ont., in 1872. He came west with his family in 1882, and settled on a farm, seven miles west of Neepawa, Man. About that time he and his brother Sam, invented a double disc drill, which received widespread recognition.

In 1898 he was married to Elizabeth Mary Ann Stinson of Neepawa, and they will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Feb. 21, 1948.

Mr. McKone came to Edmonton in the fall of 1905, and having had his fill of farming, decided to go into business in Vermilion. First he opened a pool hall, but soon sold it, and went into the farm implement business. He was the International Harvester agent for 27 years, and on his retirement in 1932, he was said to have been the oldest agent in the west.

"THE POPULATION of Vermilion in 1905 was only about 650; now it is close to 1,400," he said. He has been an active public welfare organizer, taking a prominent part in the building of the first Vermilion curling and skating rinks, veterans club rooms,

153 Home Permits Out in 3 Weeks

Edmonton's home-building program this year is nearing the 200 mark as 153 permits were taken out during the first three weeks of April with a permit value of $107,250. The cumulative total of permits issued for houses since January 1 was 238, the value of which was $1,096,730.

LAST YEAR at the same date there were 210 permits issued, the value of which was $1,280,225. The average value of permits in 1947 is substantially above that of last year, and officials credit this to the increased cost of materials and labor.

A PERMIT for $40,000 was taken out by the McCabe Grain Co. covering an extension to the company's warehouse at 12560 Fort Road. The Prairie Cereals Ltd., took out a permit for $15,000 for the erection of a frame building at 8625 107A avenue.

A permit was issued to Barrigan Woodwards for the erection of a store building at 10572 109 street costing $7,000, and to Manning Lumber Co., for $7,000 covering the construction of a frame and stucco building at 10439-43 80 avenue.

W. Link took out 10 permits for the erection of houses at locations in the 109 block on 131 street. The average of these permits was $3,400. A permit was issued to the McKay Coal Co., for the construction of a concrete and tile office building at 10322 105 street.

"Brother Orchid" To Be Staged Here

The stage play "Brother Orchid" by Leo Brady, will be presented in Edmonton for the first time on Friday May 23. It will be under the direction of the Rev. Father Oswald Fuchs, and will be presented by the students of St. Anthony's college. The play is a medley of bar-room rowdiness, shooting and scenes of quite monastic life. It has been presented in Regina, Winnipeg and Vancouver in recent years. The screen production was shown here a few years ago. The curtain will go up in St. Anthony's gymnasium, 129 avenue and 87 street, Friday at 8:15 p.m.

Relates Early History of City

"Early days in Edmonton" was the subject of a speech by Joel Smith at a luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Macdonald hotel Thursday. The address described the founding of Edmonton and its progress into one of Canada's leading cities.

IN 1905 Edmonton was named capital of Alberta, but it was long before that its colorful birth took place.

In 1778, Mr. Smith said, the North West Company established a fort west of the municipal golf links. It was named Fort Edmonton in 1795.

Fort Edmonton was a strategic point on the great transcontinental trade route from Montreal to Portland, Oregon.

From 1800 to 1870, he explained, the glory of Edmonton departed owing to the opening of new trade routes farther south and in the United States, which drew a considerable number of Indians away.

EDMONTON CONSISTED of 35 families in 1874.

Mr. Smith concluded by reading a quotation by the late Hon. Frank Oliver, founder of The Edmonton Bulletin, which stated the latter's faith in a city that was destined to have a great future.

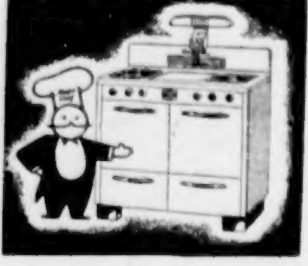

Laurence Cairns, chairman of the war memorial scholarship fund, delivered a short address on the purpose of the fund.

Rail Inquiry

"Representations can be made as well here as at Winnipeg or Vancouver or any other place," Mr. Pitblado declared.

IF THIS WERE a general investigation into the rate structure, he said, the railways would agree that nationwide hearings should be held. But it was purely a financial case.

Prompt action in the case was needed the counsel said, and outside hearings would be "unfair to the railways" in that they would "unduly delay the relief that has been asked for."

Mr. Pitblado dealt with what he said was some of the material that might be presented to the board in regional hearings. He produced a printed booklet addressed to the board by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

J. J. Frawley, Alberta counsel, said he had never seen this submission, and Chief Commissioner J. A. Cross also declared he had no recollection of the board ever having received it.

Mr. Pitblado declared the Edmonton submission was aimed "at the basic rate structure" and "at a new general freight investigation." But the arguments in the booklet, he said could be presented—and many of them had been—at the hearings here.

THE EDMONTON presentation was a fair sample of what the intelligent people of the west might be expected to submit. But some others were "not so intelligent."

As an example of the latter, Mr. Pitblado said, he produced a copy of a yellow fly-sheet put out by the Labor-Progressive party denouncing the proposed increase as "another 30 per cent for monopolists" and calling for the abolition of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Mr. Pitblado said he wondered if farmers of Western Canada realized their low-rates on export grain were not affected by the present application.

"It looks like an attempt to stampede the board," he said. A "sort of mass hysteria" was being raised in Western Canada.

50 Houses Planned, West End Project

Fifty houses will be erected in the Glenora district by Floyd A. Johnson and Harold R. Dicconson, Edmonton building contractors, according to city commissioners.

Purchase was made Friday of 10 lots on the east side of 136 street between 104 and 105 avenues, the purchase price being $3,372.50. It is the intention of the purchasers to buy 10 lots in this locality each 15 days until the 50 lot quota has been reached.

They propose to erect homes on these properties that will cost approximately $6,000 each.

Cars Are Lethal Ministers Warn

"People are apt to forget that an automobile is a lethal weapon, like a gun."

That statement is included in the foreword of a booklet now being printed for distribution to all motor license holders in Alberta. It was prepared by Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary and Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of public works. The booklet explains Alberta's Automobile Accident Indemnity Act.

The ministers explain in another section of the foreword that the government has always been reluctant to enforce compulsory measures, and for that reason, after a comprehensive study of various schemes had decided on a modification of the Manitoba financial responsibility scheme.

Recent amendments approved by the Ontario legislature for the Ontario Highway Traffic act institutes a similar set-up to that now established in Alberta, except that the Ontario legislation does not contain provision for the payment of hospital expenses of accident victims.

The pamphlet, to be sent to motorists when it is printed, outlines the terms of Alberta's "compulsory insurance" scheme.

"Save the Soil" Forms Sent Out

Application forms for competitors in the "Save the Soil" campaign have been sent to the municipalities of Morinville, Sturgeon, Strathcona and Stony Plain, the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce reported Friday.

The competition is jointly sponsored by the chamber's agricultural section and the provincial department of agriculture. For the farm adjudged best there will be cash awards as well as a trophy, latter donated by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Entries close June 15 and application forms are available from district agriculturists and board of trade offices.

Sentenced to 10 years in the Big House in 1945, Van Wie won release through a model prison record and a leniency plea by the judge who sentenced him.

Find Airmen

fler, and Allen Estabrook, both of Calgary, were joining in the projected search.

Jack Jenkins, Don Souter and Elmer Brown, all of Calgary, were piloting the three chartered search planes.

Long experience of Spencer Ademan under trying conditions of wartime flying and the fact that the missing aircraft carried emergency rations for two persons to last 14 days, convinced his father that the two were still alive.

Civil Aviation Inspector Saunders said the fact the two men turned up at the trading posts of Little Red River and Fort Vermilion, would seem to indicate that the plane, a light Taylorcraft, was about 100 miles west of its course on the route from Edmonton to Embarras at the time of the forced landing.

As nothing further was received here except the bare information telling of the safety of the two men, officials here are still without word as to the cause of the mishap or what happened to the plane.

Full details about the missing aircraft and its passengers is expected some time Friday.

MONTREAL, April 23—(CP)—

New Soapless VEL Speeds Baby's Laundry

by Frances Thompson noted homemaking authority

Here's good news for mothers! The new soapless VEL helps speed the daily job of washing baby clothes. Why?—because it quickly lifts out dirt and if you don't use too much (rather less than you would of soap) it makes rinsing easier, leaves no soapy residue to irritate tender skin.

VEL IS MILD AND GENTLE. VEL is so mild and gentle it is safe to use for all babies' garments—nappies included. Unlike soap, VEL contains no alkali so it is kind to your hands. Its very slight perfume keeps baby clothes fresh and sweet.

VEL FOR BABY'S WOOLENS. Right from the start use VEL for baby's woolens. You'll be delighted how soft and fluffy they keep. Always wash and rinse woolens in mildly warm water. Don't rub or twist, just squeeze. A nurse who specializes in the care of infants writes, "I find VEL is the greatest thing ever for washing baby clothes. It saves so much washing and rinsing time. It leaves nappies so white and soft, woolens so fresh and fluffy I'll never go back to using soap again."

DIFFERENT FROM SOAP. Don't expect VEL to act like soap—it is not soap but does an equally good or better job of cleansing. Always put VEL into basin, tub or sink first—then run water over it. You'll probably find that the light, foamy suds will not remain but every drop of your clear VEL solution has amazing cleansing power. VEL dissolves instantly and completely even in lukewarm water—and it's less likely to make you sneeze! Timely Advice to Motorists Waiting for New Cars

DON'T dispose of your present car now. Automobile Dealers have orders for thousands more cars than they expect to secure from factories this year. So they may not be able to deliver your new car as soon as you expect. Hang on to your present car until you KNOW that your new car has actually arrived. Otherwise you may be piling up mileage on foot!

DO keep your present car in best possible condition! Have it serviced regularly. Then when you do get your new car, you'll get a better price for the old one. Meantime, you'll enjoy better driving. And you'll be protected against inconvenient breakdowns or even serious accidents.

REMEMBER your automobile Dealer is doing his level best to get your new car for you as soon as possible. And he is seeing that deliveries are made on the fairest possible basis.

So Please Be Patient.

Your Turn Will Come!

Quebec Premier Fears Red Revolt

QUEBEC, April 25—(CP)—Premier Duplessis declared yesterday in the Quebec Legislature that Communism is a manifestation of the worst sort of tyranny the world can know, as the house resumed debate on a motion by Andre Laurendeau, Bloc Populaire leader, requesting the Dominion government to declare the Labor-Progressive party illegal. The premier said that the number of Communists in Canada was small but they are preparing, according to documents recently seized in Montreal, to start a revolution and take over the province of Quebec. "Strict watchfulness over entry and exit passports and over Communist literature are the best methods to use for the moment to protect democracy..." Opposition Leader Adélard Godbout said he knew there was "considerable propaganda" in the major cities of Canada. The best way to defeat Communism was not to let "bitterness get into the soul of the people" but to eradicate it by good government and good social legislation, Mr. Godbout said.

Oldest known system of examinations was one for selecting civil service officers, used in China about 115 B.C.

"Made Good" But Serves More Time

COLUMBUS, O., April 25—(AP)—George Mason, who authorities said slugged his way out of an honor job at a prison farm in 1935 and became a prosperous war goods maker in Detroit under the name of Mel Shane, must spend at least two more years in Ohio's penitentiary.

The State pardon and parole commission yesterday ignored a plea by Michigan's governor Kim Sigler and Walter Reuther of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) that Shane had rehabilitated himself. Instead, the commission continued his case until March 1949. These two years will be his penalty for hitting a guard with an iron pipe in the farm blacksmith shop and fleeing in a State automobile. The commission indicated two years hence it will be decided whether to make him resume his original one-to-20-year sentence for possession of burglary tools and explosives, for which he was convicted in Cleveland in 1932.

MY HUSBAND'S PLENTY SMART...WORKS AWFULLY HARD...

WHY DOESN'T HE GET AHEAD?

"Tell me, Grace, your husband works in the same office with Bob—what is the matter? He doesn't seem to fit in or get ahead."

IT'S EMBARRASSING TO MENTION, JANE, BUT "B.O." IS SOMETHING NO ONE WILL EXCUSE! IT CAN HOLD A MAN BACK...IN BUSINESS AND IN EVERY WAY!

I SHOULD HAVE DONE THIS LONG AGO!

"I was stunned at Grace's reply. To think that my husband was letting 'B.O.' stand in his way. I marched right out and got Bob some Lifebuoy."

GLAD TO GIVE YOU THE PROMOTION, BOB. YOU DESERVE IT — YOU GET ALONG WELL WITH PEOPLE!

"Now Bob never misses his morning Lifebuoy shower. And not long ago Bob's hard work and ability were rewarded. He got a fine promotion."

ARE WIVES TO BLAME?

Smart wives know the hand-icap "B.O." (body odor) can be to a man in business. They keep Lifebuoy handy as the first step toward helping their husbands to success.

HOW TO STEP UP PROTECTION AGAINST "B.O."

Tests prove not only that Lifebuoy stops "B.O." but that you can build increasingly better protection against "B.O." by always bathing with Lifebuoy. Try it. Bathe with Lifebuoy for just seven days. See how fresh and clean your skin feels. And when you know that a Lifebuoy bath stops "B.O." four gives you longer-lasting protection. You won't ever want to miss your BATH-A-DAY THE LIFEBOUY WAY!

P.S. I'M USING LIFEBOUY, TOO! I KNOW THAT IT KEEPS ME FRESH AND DAINTY!

"Bob told me he used to use Lifebuoy regularly before we were married. So all the trouble was my fault for not keeping Lifebuoy handy!"

Radio Program "Not Political"

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—A legal study of the first five scripts of a series of broadcasts by the Regina Chamber of Commerce has been shown they contain nothing of a political nature offending the Canadian Broadcasting Act, A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors, announced yesterday.

MR. DUNTON made public a telegram to provincial treasurer Fines of Saskatchewan in which he added that a study of the last five scripts of the broadcast series—not yet presented on the air—will be made "to make quite certain" they did not offend Section 22 of the Act, which prohibits dramatized political broadcasts.

The message added the CBC did not propose any action regarding the series, broadcast over a Regina radio station, unless the legal opinion proved different regarding the last five scripts.

Mr. Fines had asked that the series be banned as "political."

To End Ration

use sugar coupons for the cheaper jams.

The board contended that with the issuing of eight instead of seven ration coupons each quarter starting this month, together with the freeing of corn, cane and other syrups from the restricted list the trade would be able to move the stockpiled jam.

This hasn't proved to be the case, and since canning firms are planning their quotas for this year's coming fruit pack, the prices board soon is expected to abandon the ration.

DISPOSAL of plum jam and other cheaper lines was always a price problem, the consumer preferring even in unrationed times to pay 20 cents for strawberry or raspberry than 10 cents for the less popular varieties.

Rationing has served only to make the situation worse. Consumers using coupons for jam have invariably spent them for the more popular and expensive lines, with the result that the cheaper varieties have piled up unsold, in hundreds of thousands of cases, in the storage rooms of retailers, wholesalers and packers alike.

FOR CIVIL RIGHTS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Establishment of "civil rights" in Canada where they are at present "poorly defended or inadequately protected" is the aim of a new University of British Columbia group—The Canadian Civil Liberties Union.

VALE, Ore., April 25.—(AP)—Alvin Lee Williams, 23, a one-time cowboy who confessed killing wealthy W. D. Broadhurst, 51, for the love of a red-haired 40-year-old woman, was sentenced yesterday to a life term in prison. He confessed the shotgun slaying in the earlier trial of seven-times-wedded Mrs. Gladys Lincoln Broadhurst, the rancher's wife, who also drew a life sentence.

See No Agreement On Global Police

NEW YORK, April 25.—(AP)—The military staff committee of the United Nations was reported today to have abandoned hopes of reaching unanimous agreement on several basic factors for a global police force.

Resuming its secret sessions, the committee turned to lower principles in a drive to complete its first report by April 30 to meet a Security Council deadline.

A source familiar with the work of the committee said there would be no formal vote but that all the dissenting views—mostly Russian—would be shown in the body of the summary going to the parent security council.

Major points of difference included those covering availability of bases for the international force, the type of contributions by the Big Five powers, and plans for withdrawal of troops after the end of an emergency.

Envoy Returns

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(AP)—Nikolai V. Novikov, the Russian ambassador, returned last night from a six-week trip to Moscow. Novikov was accompanied by four Soviet economic officials who will take part in discussions on Russia's $11,200,000,000 lend-lease account.

Says "Blackmail" Used On Cabinet

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—Angus McInnis (CCF—Vancouver East) charged last night in the Commons that the federal cabinet had been "blackmailed" in the complex problem of what to do with Canada's Japanese citizens. He said that "certain political promises" had been made that the Japanese would not be allowed to return to British Columbia. Then things had been "made tough" for the Japanese in other parts of Canada so that they would want to go back to Japan.

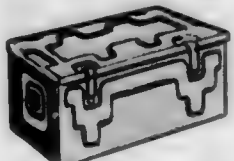

debate on the wartime order-in-council giving the government power to relocate the Japanese. The order is part of the government bill under which specific war-induced controls are being extended for another year.

He said that Labor Minister Mitchell, who administered the order, had not been "a free agent" in the matter and had not been given full support by the cabinet.

Says U.S. After Saudi Arabian Oil

By ED. L. CAMPBELL

PARIS, April 25.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace said yesterday the United States should obtain Saudi Arabian oil through the United Nations, "so it would not seem so utterly damn imperialistic."

"There is no sense in being hypocritical about it," the former American vice-president told the Anglo-American Press Association here. "We are in the Middle East to get the oil of Saudi Arabia."

"We are going to get that oil, and I am a good enough American to want to see the United States get the oil. But I would like to use the United Nations, so it would not seem so utterly damn imperialistic."

PARIS, April 25.—(AP)—France "must remain a democratic republic—free of dictatorship aspirations—not only in the interests of her people but in the interests of the world," Henry A. Wallace told the French people last night.

The former vice-president of the United States, in the last public speech of his European tour—prepared for delivery at the famed Sorbonne, said France had "a mission to fulfill as a link between the United States and Russia."

In urging a democratic republic for France, Wallace said: "Such a republic I am sure, must and will be supported by the people of the United States and the other peace-loving nations of the world in her efforts to win the necessary security against any future German aggression."

Reserve Judgment Case of Mrs. Dick

TORONTO, April 25.—(CP)—Ontario court of appeal yesterday reserved judgment on the crown's appeal against acquittal of Mrs. Evelyn Dick on a charge of murdering her husband, John. The acquittal came at the end of Mrs. Dick's second trial on the murder charge, a trial ordered by the appellate court which set aside her conviction at the first trial. C. R. Magone of the attorney-general's department asked that the appeal court set aside the acquittal and order a third trial for the 27-year-old Hamilton widow. Earlier, W. B. Common, for the Crown, had argued that the Crown should have been permitted to enter as evidence statements allegedly made by Mrs. Dick concerning the torso-slaying of her husband.

Rap Minister's VLA Inspection

VICTORIA, April 25.—(CP)—Victoria district zone council of the Canadian Legion last night passed a unanimous resolution that it "viewed with suspicion" the manner in which Veterans Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie conducted his recent inspection of properties on the Braefoot Estate here. A move definite decision should have been made on the spot, the Legion said. The only solution to the Braefoot problem would be a Royal Commission investigation into the matter, Legion officials declared. They claimed that in the Ruby Road Veterans Land Act project here floors were reported buckling because they were under water.

Teen-Age Girls Are "Best Eaters"

BERLIN, April 25.—(Reuters)—Teen-age girls assimilate their food better than anybody else, and draw energy from the last ounce of it, says Dr. Otto Jaeger, head of the science department of the central administration of health for the Russian zone of Germany. "They adapt themselves quickly to all conditions and hardships, showing surprisingly little loss of weight," he said.

Said "Forgotten Men"

Seek Benefits for Seamen

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—The case for Canada's "fourth service"—the Merchant Navy—was being submitted on parliament hill today and with indications it may get government attention soon.

A. J. Heide, himself a merchant marine man during the war and now heading a two-man delegation from the Merchant Marine Rehabilitation Society of Vancouver, was busy meeting cabinet ministers and members of parliament seeking war benefits for merchantmen comparable to those enjoyed by members of the armed forces.

THE ESTIMATED 18,000 Canadians who manned Dominion merchant ships and those of other fleets during the war, now were more like the "forgotten men" than the heroes they were hailed as during the war, he said. They had the highest casualty rate in the conflict, yet the government regarded them as a civilian service.

Mr. Heide said he was hopeful their case would be taken up in parliament soon, probably during consideration of veterans estimates after presentation of the budget next month.

Mr. Heide said his orders from the MMRS, formed in Vancouver

New Govt. Labor Bill Is Outlined

BY CHESTER BLOOM

OTTAWA, April 25.—Terms of the Dominion's new model industrial disputes and relations act to be submitted to the provinces for enactment of concurrent legislation are now under consideration by the federal cabinet.

It was learned today that the outline of the proposed model bill includes:

A PERMANENT national labor relations board to succeed the wartime labor relations board but without the latter's nationwide summary authority except where concurred in by a province collective bargaining but no guarantee of so-called "union security" the check-off or union shop versus closed shop annual contracts authorized between employers and labor jurisdictional attacks on a certified union during life of an employer-employee agreement printed rules established for conciliation in labor disputes before a strike can be called rules for the taking of strike votes not under jurisdiction of the federal labor department but no strike without a strike vote, provinces invited to transfer voluntarily authority in the federal board over any industry they consider of a peculiarly national character such as coal-mining the federal board to have no authority in setting questions of wages, hours, etc. which are to continue a matter of negotiation between employer and employee.

SMITH FALLS, Ont. April 25.—(CP)—Fire destroyed the Malcolme Castings company plant here yesterday, and the loss was estimated at $200,000. For more than an hour before the blaze was brought under control high winds swept the flames in all directions and threatened other buildings in the neighborhood. Many residents within a two-block area fled from their homes.

The Book of Knowledge

(Department: Wonder Questions)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

WHAT IS DAYLIGHT SAVING

In all civilized countries for years past, people have been gradually keeping later and later hours, with the result that for half the year at least they have missed much of the daylight. In the bright hours of the morning they have been in bed asleep, and for hours after darkness has fallen in the evening, they have been going about in artificial light.

Benjamin Franklin in 1784 wrote about this strange habit of civilized man. He submitted a humorous article on the subject in a Paris paper.

It was not until 1907 that the idea of putting the clocks forward was seriously suggested. In that year an Englishman, William Willet, brought forward a plan to change the clocks during the summer months and make people get up an hour earlier.

The question was much discussed for years, and in 1916, during World War I, Daylight Saving was adopted in England. One day in spring by act of Parliament, all the clocks were overnight put forward one hour. This saved electricity. Soon Germany, Canada, Australia and some other countries passed Daylight Saving laws. After the United States entered the war, this country, too, adopted daylight saving.

In the fall of 1940, during World War II, Great Britain, France, Germany and several other day-light-saving countries did not put their clocks back on the usual date. They continued daylight saving throughout the year, though not so much daylight could be saved in winter. Nevertheless, a considerable amount of electricity was saved. When the following spring came, Great Britain and

CNR Expecting Big 1947 Deficit

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—The Canadian National Railways, which had a deficit of $3,961,000 last year, is budgeting for a 1947 deficit of $31,000,000, the Commons was told yesterday.

The National line's annual budget, tabled in the House, also disclosed the CNR plans capital expenditures of $63,241,000 and may have to turn over $18,400,000 to Trans-Canada Air Lines to finance TCA's 1947 capital budget. For the railway's capital budget, it was shown, the actual amount of new money needed will be $46,723,000, since $16,518,000 of the $63,241,000 figure already is available in depreciation and other reserves.

The operating budget is calculated on existing freight rates, not taking into account the CNR's application for a 30-per cent increase. Revenues would be $402,160,000 and operating expenses $380,500,000, leaving net operating revenues of $21,660,000. Other charges amounting to $52,660,000—including $44,500,000 in debt interest—would reduce this to a deficit of $31,000,000.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney
When you pull up a chair to kibitz a rubber bridge game in Indianapolis you never know what is going to happen next. Today's hand was sent to me by Walter J. Pray of that city, who is West. His partner was William K. Cooper, a youngster of 76 who has been playing bridge for 50 years.

Pray says that Mr. Cooper is just as keen about the game as the young fellows (like Pray himself, who is 61).

This hand was quite a freak, but how many East players would open with five clubs as Mr. Cooper did?

And how many would go to six clubs with the West hand?

However, Walter Pray would say that you are a coward if you would not, and his redoubled was put in just to make the game more spirited.

The opening diamond lead was trumped in dummy with the five of clubs and a small spade was led North played the queen. Mr. Cooper ruffed, led a small diamond, South played the queen and dummy ruffed. Another spade was ruffed by declarer and the six of diamonds ruffed in dummy. The third spade was ruffed by East, and the seven of diamonds ruffed in dummy with the jack of clubs doubled and redoubled with. Thus Mr. Cooper made six an overtrick.

Ontario Farmers Hear AFU Leader

NEWBURGH, Ont., April 25 (CP)—More than 300 farmers jammed into a hall in this eastern Ontario centre, seven miles from Napanee, Wednesday night to hear Carl J. Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, outline prospects for the future of agricultural communities.

The meeting was called by the infant "Ontario Farmers Union," formed a few months ago at near-by Strathearn by a small group of farmers. They communicated with similar unions in western provinces and asked for advice and speakers.

Mr. Stimpfle strongly advocated

"direct farmer action." He called on Ontario farmers to band together in a unified front and join with other provincial unions to protect their rights and interests. Co-operatives were not the answer to the farmer's problem in that they did not go far enough in representing the farmer.

Suggest Provinces Absorb Japanese

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—The anese problem again Wednesday and heard a suggestion that they be dispersed among the various provinces on the basis of the employment possibilities available. The proposal was advanced by E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops), who said the provinces would, of course, be consulted. The Japanese would be told that, if they proved to be good citizens, restrictions would be removed after a specified number of years and they would be free to live where they wished.

Why Grow Old?

If you are not fortunate enough to have a lovely complexion like actress Joan Winfield, above, be careful how you treat your pimples. If you squeeze them, use gauze as Miss Winfield is doing.

O. "Please tell me if cocoa butter will reduce the bust."

A. No.

O. "Please tell me if I am in proportion. I am 13 years old, five feet, one inch tall, and weigh 82 pounds. My bust measures 27 1/2 inches and hips 30 1/2 inches."

A. You are underweight, a lot underweight. I urge you to gain for health's sake. Get plenty sleep, drink lots of milk and eat a diet which contains meat and potatoes and lots of green vegetable and fresh fruits, eggs and whole grain cereals. Get outdoors as much as possible and ask your physician about vitamin B complex. Your figure will take care of itself.

O. "I had a permanent four months ago. My head was burned and my mother says that hair will never grow in that spot. Is she right?"

A. If the result is actually scarred skin I fear your mother is right. I suggest that you see a skin specialist.

O. "I am 16 years old and I wish you would answer this question in your column. I would like to know what I should do to get my legs smooth. They are extremely rough and bumpy."

A. I suggest that you use a both brush each day and give them a good scrubbing with soap and water, using the brush. Then apply a body lotion. Vitamin deficiency can cause a goose pimply appearance on the skin. Investigate this angle. Is your diet vitamin rich? You might also try enforcing it with vitamin capsules.

A. While I do not believe that you should dress for your age rather than your appearance, yet I realize that women who wear small sizes do have a problem. So often the small sizes are fluffier or have all kinds of furbelows which are not attractive on a woman unless she is very young. I think a woman's charm in dress is chicness and becomingness. Smartness and frills do not seem to go together. I would weave my way through the selection, having

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The child would never discover the power of the word "no," were he willing to carry out the commands of the parent forever. It ought to be pretty plain that such a situation is unsatisfactory.

There comes a time, usually between the age of 2 and 4, when the child develops a recognition of his own desires. He knows, or thinks he does, how he wants to act. His desires and the parents' often are at cross purposes.

Meanwhile, he has learned, by experience, that when his mother wants to stop him from acting, she says, "No." So he uses the same tactics with her. She says, "Come now, it is time for your bath," and he runs in the opposite direction and says no. She wants him to eat his lunch and he prefers playing in the sandpile.

His negativism acts like a fire-cracker. It never fails to excite his mother. Seeing this makes it the more enticing a weapon to the child. He is not above doing what infuriates the parent, as no doubt she often infuriates him.

There is one simple way of dealing with this natural behavior and it has no relation to punishment. It is to think up two or more ways for the child to do the thing his mother wants him to do, and offer him a choice of these ways.

"Do you want to turn on your own bath water or would you rather Mother did it for you?"

"Shall we walk to Grandma's, or would you rather we drive in the car?"

"Do you want to carry the vegetables or the sack of canned goods?"

The child cannot say no to everything you ask him, so he agrees to one or the other and peace is achieved.

Sometimes, as every mother knows, there are things which have to be done and there is little choice.

Then they must be done as pleasantly as possible, ignoring the frantic, "No, no." Quite often the no is a mere word and does not signify the child's disapproval. He says "no" because it is a new word, has exciting repercussions, and flaunts his personality. Give him a chance to flourish and don't take his no too seriously.

Our leaflet No. 72 "When The Child Says 'No,'" may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Plan Hunt Nests Of Whooping Crane

THE PAS, Man., April 25 (CP)—Sam Waller, The Pas naturalist, said last night he has been advised by Dr. Lawrence H. The expedition, led by Robert Allen, will pay particular attention to the Nuelita and Duck Lake areas, near the Manitoba-North West Territories boundary.

Welfare Costs Are Said Shared

Municipalities in Alberta already assume a full share of the responsibility for welfare services, it was learned Thursday morning when comment was sought on a speech made in Lethbridge Tuesday by Dr. Charlotte Whitton, IODE official who has been verbally battling with Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and public welfare since the start of a province-wide survey.

DR. WHITTON'S most recent speech issued a challenge to Alberta communities to manage their own welfare services and drew a dramatic portrait of the conditions under which some of the aged in Alberta are living.

She continued her attack on child welfare work in Alberta particularly on the allegation that many babies were being "exported" from the province.

This attack will be answered in full by a report being prepared by the child welfare commission, Dr. Cross, said Thursday morning.

"WE CAN'T TELL old people where they are going to live," A Blackie, superintendent of the old age pensions branch said. "Our responsibility is to pay the pension regularly."

"As soon as we hear of old age pensioners not living in good circumstances we report at once to the municipality concerned," he added. "These municipalities do everything they can to see these people are properly housed."

The pension is supplied he pointed out by co-operation between the federal, the provincial and the municipal authorities, with the federal government supplying 75 per cent of it.

Wild Life Week

OTTAWA, April 25 (CP)—The Senate yesterday approved a bill to make the week of April 10 National Wild Life week. The week is that of the birth of the late Jack Miner, great Canadian naturalist.

The largest colony of prairie dogs ever located was 250 miles long and 100 miles wide.

GREAT CANADIAN NAMES IN THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

NO 3, SAUNDERS

THE KILLING frost came early to the Prairie grain fields in the Autumn of 1907. At an experimental farm in Saskatchewan, the morning of September 12th dawned on a scene of heart-breaking desolation to scientists who had labored endless days and nights to produce a more frost-resistant wheat... but, amidst those ruined patches of different strains was one straight-standing beautiful picture of life and strength... the red-gold miracle of Marquis wheat had come to the world.

Charles Edward Saunders, Canada's first Dominion Cerealists, developed the famous Marquis wheat and made it possible to roll back the wheat map of Canada for many miles into the North. Untold millions were added to the national wealth by his genius and unending patience. He was born in London, Ontario, in 1867 and as a young man devoted himself to music. In his thirties, however, he followed the family tradition and worked with his father, Dr. William Saunders and his brother Perry, who were experimenting with strains of wheat that would ripen before the Prairie frosts could ruin them. A scientist to his finger-tips, he tested the baking and milling qualities of wheat from all over the world in the only way then known, by chewing little globules to compare the gluten strengths.

Although the development of Marquis wheat was his most spectacular achievement, Charles Saunders also helped to give the world Garnet wheat and new strains of other grains of incalculable value. In 1934 he became Sir Charles Saunders. After twenty years of service to his country, he died in 1937, but his work, carried on by his successors, still goes on to the greater glory of the nation.

Should Not Throw Herself at Man

Dear Miss Dix: I am a girl of 16 and I want to know what I shall do about this fellow with whom I am very much in love. We were never introduced and he never even said hello to me, but the minute I saw him I was determined to have him. So I wrote him a letter telling him how much I loved him, but didn't sign my name. Then a week later, I found out his phone number and called him up, but all he said was that he was very flattered. And that was all. Then I called him up again and by that time he had found out that I was only 16 and he was very rude. He told me he didn't play around with kids of my age.

So now all that I do is just cry my eyes out. Would you tell me what I should do for I am almost sure that there isn't any hope for me.

Thanking Heaven that your silly, adolescent fancy fell on a gentleman instead of a heel. For you have had a miraculous escape from a great danger. When young girls pick up strange men on the street and write them ardent love letters and make every advance to them, they become the easy prey of any cad who is unprincipled enough to take advantage of their folly.

It is a thing that no nice girl does, and I hope that your experience will not only teach you discretion, but also will make you realize that it disgusts men for women to run after them and be too easy. When a girl throws herself at a man's head, he ducks and dodges her.

Returning Resident Says English Desire Emigrate

There's a new feeling among the young people of England. They all want to go off to Australia, New Zealand, South, East and West Africa, or Canada, to escape conditions in England.

THIS IS THE opinion of Countess Adeline De la Feld who returned to Edmonton Thursday to spend the summer after almost a year's stay in England. While overseas she visited at the home of her sister, Vicountess de Vesel, in Shropshire and her nephew in Ireland. She did not visit the continent because she found "life so difficult and so uncomfortable so impossible."

"There is no elbow room in England," the countess stated. "Overpopulation of the country affects the lives of everyone, and they turn their eyes to Canada more than ever before."

THIS DESIRE for immigration from Britain to Canada pleases the countess, for it has long been one of her fervent wishes. She thinks that of all Commonwealth dominions, Australia's forward-looking immigration policy is attracting the English youth most.

The countess condemned the talk at present in England of building "satellite towns" in the countryside, to relieve congested city housing. She believes that taking huge grounds from cultivation for that purpose would only reduce the area for food production.

FOOD IN ENGLAND the countess found very meagre, and unappetizing, with little chance to obtain oranges or other citrus fruits. She promised to send her relatives rice from Canada, but on arrival in Edmonton was disappointed in the lack of it here.

One week's meat ration in England, she said, was only enough for one meal, and the English are lucky if they get their quota of one egg weekly.

Living at her sister's country home, during the recent heavy floods of February and March the countess said the home was literally "snowed up". Roads were blocked, mail was cut off and personal moving about curtailed.

She said that the British people regard the possibility of the engagement of Princess Elizabeth to Prince Philip of Greece as "unthinkable". Everyone would be pleased with that news, she said, as they feel that the Princess should marry now and not put it off.

Countess De la Feld lived in Edmonton during the war years.

MARRIED 55 YEARS: Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Greenfield, 9457 100A avenue, who, on April 29 will receive congratulations on the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary.

Many Resolutions Passed By Local Council of Women Here

Eight resolutions were passed at the monthly meeting of the Local Council of Women held in the YWCA Thursday afternoon.

The resolutions will be forwarded to the National Council to be brought before the annual meeting to be held in Regina, June 6 to 10.

Members of the LCW endorse the briefs of six libraries and research organizations to establish a national library in Hamilton, Ont.

They endorsed the principle of equality in regard to salaries and advancement of women to administrative posts.

Members want food, clothing, drugs and farm equipment to be continued to be sent to European countries until these countries can provide for themselves.

THEY WANT an all-inclusive health insurance plan to be enacted so that when a man suffers because of inability to pay fees he may obtain hospital care.

They want Canada to admit her quota of physically-fit displaced persons as determined by the United Nations.

Members ask that the minister of justice be asked to provide additional penalties for sex offenders after they have been examined by a psychiatrist to prevent repeaters.

Members passed a resolution asking that the price of homes be scaled down to 40 per cent of their present value, and urge the government to create uniformity in lowering the age from 21 years to 18 as the age of maturity for all legal purposes.

ON A MOTION, the Council of Women, Edmonton, "go on record as favoring bringing displaced persons (women and girls) from camps in Europe to Canada, provided investigation would choose the most suitable, and that they come under strict control."

Council appointed Mrs. W. J. Melrose and Mrs. J. Lyons to be delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Alberta Adult Education Association, June 20.

The council holds monthly meetings in Talmud Torah hall and the Bessell Institute of All People's Mission and the broad objective is to develop among people of diverse racial origins a true Canadianism and a better type of Democracy.

The council evolved in 1942 from the League of Nations Society and has become one of the most interesting and colorful organizations in Canada.

Commons Rejects CCF Move To Lift Ban on Japanese

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, April 25.—(CP)—By a standing vote of 105 to 31, the Commons yesterday defeated a CCF amendment which would have meant the death of the wartime order-in-council giving the government authority to move Japanese residents from British Columbia's coast areas and re-locate them elsewhere in Canada.

THE VOTE CAME as a climax of three days of debate on the order-in-council which controls the movement of Japanese residents from the coast to the interior.

Four Liberals and two Progressive Conservative members voted in favor of the CCF motion. They were Rossa Arseneault (L-Renouveau), David Croll (L-Toronto Spadina), W. M. Rendickson (L-Kenora-Hastee River), Ronald Michaud (L-Restigouche-Madawaska), John Diefenbaker (P-C Lake Centre) and John Hachett (P-Stamstead).

Debate on the main order was resumed after the vote, taken in committee stage.

BEFORE VOTING, the house heard two government members—Mr. Michaud and Mr. Croll—express their opposition to continuation of the order, which Mr. Croll said was tinged with "racial hatred."

Later, replying to questioning, the minister said he "shuddered" to think of what might happen if the order was defeated, the CCF to transact their business, he said. He recalled a visit to a Detroit suburb in which parking meters were installed, and said he had observed the same thing in the city of Detroit.

Mr. Winterburn submitted that some of the congestion in downtown areas was caused through delivery trucks double-parking while making deliveries through narrow streets.

S. T. LAWRIE, chairman of the zoning appeal board, submitted that the installation of parking meters was the only real solution to traffic congestion. He suggested that every block made of the town planning commission's off-street parking proposals.

Alderman F. J. Mitchell said the question of installation of parking meters should be deferred until council had dealt with the city centre plan. He also indicated that consideration should be given to the provision of off-street parking in the city of Edmonton.

Other aldermen were of the opinion that further study should be given to this question before a decision was arrived at, and asked the commissioners for additional reports of the submissions made at the meeting.

Pludge: It was either me or the telephone cord . . .

"The telephone cord . . . Yes, your honor. It curled up. Every time I would go to answer the telephone, I'd have to get down on my knees beside it, because it would be all curled up. So then I would straighten it all out."

"But didn't that . . . Always curled up again when I wasn't looking."

"Then when the shower bath got on their side I knew . . ."

"Shower bath, Mr. Pludge?"

"Even the shower bath, I would stand outside the tub and get the temperature just right. I'm a medium warm man myself, your honor. Then, when I stepped in, it would rear back and let me have it. Second degree burns, your honor."

"You had developed a fixation, I take it?"

"I didn't really get desperate until after Vladimir was born and . . ."

"Vladimir, Mr. Pludge?"

"My son, your honor. You see we bought one of those folding baby carriages for him. Believe me, I'll never forget the day I tried to get it together."

"It was difficult?"

"Kept lunging at me. That's what it did. I tried to ward it off with a kitchen chair and it got me by the arm . . ."

"The deck chair?"

"Yes, your honor. They used to snap at me and one time one of the big fellows got me by the ankle."

"How long did this continue, Mr. Pludge?"

"Right up until the time I tried to do what I'm here for, your honor. The whole thing began to be a nuisance. I began to notice that telephone was gripping on things when I tried to take it off and the hot water tap in the kitchen started dripping, but not until I was just about to fall asleep and then, then, the god darn . . ."

"You really must control yourself, Mr. Pludge."

"Sorry, your honor. I was thinking about the card table. It began pulling one of its legs in and trying to sit down every time I'd put it up."

"Well, now, Mr. Pludge, I think we've had sufficient of that and . . ."

"You don't want to hear about the camera film that tried to strangle me?"

"I think not, Mr. Pludge. Perhaps you'd better tell us how you were going to do away with yourself."

"Oh, that. Well, it was this ironing board of Mrs. Pludge's, your honor."

"It was after you, too?"

"Every time I'd put it up it would be solid as a rock. Then, Mrs. Pludge would lay a handkerchief on it or breathe heavily and it would come down. So one day when Mrs. Pludge and Vladimir were out I got up on the ironing board, tied the electric cord about my neck and waited for it to drop. I figured I'd sort of have the last laugh on it."

"It didn't drop, Mr. Pludge?"

"It didn't drop, your honor."
